

Helloooooo my dearest friends. I hope you are all well. Como tá indo com vocês?

Please join the google photos because simply, it would make me happy: <https://photos.app.goo.gl/4P9d4ozmNzrzknWr7>

This week was lit! We had Zone Conference, a baptism yesterday, and today, 1 year ago, I was set apart as a missionary for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (even though my 1 year date is tomorrow). This past year of growth has been insane, and I feel blessed to think that I still have a year left.

Shout-out to all my friends who are out here hitting 1 year with me. Y'all are awesome, and I miss you. Shoot me an email so we can reminisce together 😊

Eventos Notáveis:

- Tuesday, when I last sent an email, we went to the temple, which was awesome. After, we went to the Shopping there next to the temple and I had some KFC, not too bad here in Brazil.

- Wednesday, we had Zone Conference and this time it was half of the mission together because President and Sister Cox are wanting to make it less of a headache with planning. It was super good. I got to see some of my good friends, including Elder Lundgreen, who is going home in a few weeks. I lived with him back in Jd. Ângela for 3 months, and it's sad to see him go. But Conference was top demais (super good) and I developed a higher respect for this sacred calling and the process that is being a disciple of Jesus Christ.

- Saturday, we went to English Class, and they were watching a video of a guy ordering food at some restaurants. He went to a pizza place, A&W, Subway, and then Tim Horton's (he's Canadian apparently). I had to explain the following things: Root Beer, Subway vs. A Sub Sandwich, White Cheddar, and Peppermint

- Sunday, our friends Diego and Diogo were baptized. It was awesome. The water was warm, the weather was cold. The only things that went wrong was that we accidentally overfilled the font, and that we somehow lost the parent signature for Diego (which we resolved last night don't worry). It was incredible. Next step, getting the parents married and then baptized 😊

Pensamento Espiritual:

I'm currently re-reading the Book of Mormon, and I'm reading in Mosiah, and I came across a favorite scripture of mine while in Mosiah 18,

30 And now it came to pass that all this was done in Mormon, yea, by the waters of Mormon, in the forest that was near the waters of Mormon; yea, the place of Mormon, the waters of Mormon, the forest of Mormon, how beautiful are they to the eyes of them who there came to the knowledge of their Redeemer...

Over the past year, I have learned much of my Redeemer. I cannot imagine how much I would've missed if I had not started this incredible journey.

Brazil has become one of those sacred places for me in the time that I have been here. I'm thankful for the incredible people I have met, and for all the love that I have felt. I know that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, and that He is our Savior, and that He is MY Savior, and your Savior.

I love the mission, and I am so incredibly thankful for those of you who have followed along for the past year. Love you amigos
