

Disclaimer: Shoutout to Sister Cox for the email title, I'm not leaving or anything, but she just said that when she said goodbye to the sisters in our district for the fifth time in 25 minutes.

Hellooooo my friends! Como vcs estão???

To see a Peruvian sing some youth songs in english, join the google photos album to see top-quality music: <https://photos.app.goo.gl/4P9d4ozmNzrznkWr7>

This week was very tiring. But it was a lot of fun here in Capão Redondo with Elder Guayasamin. Here are some highlights,

Eventos Notáveis:

- We had our President Interviews on Wednesday. President Cox and I were able to talk about setting goals and plans for different terms of our life. And then I ended up getting to talk with Sister Cox about random stuff, I'm not even sure what we talked about. But it was a great morning
- Wednesday afternoon, we went to our friend Priscila's house. Priscila and her mom, Shirley, went to church last Sunday and loved it. We ended up invited Priscila to be baptized on October 25th, and she accepted! Please pray for her and her family. Afterwards, we ran (literally running) back to our house to help the maintenance guy carry up our old washing machine.
- On Friday, we visited an inactive family in the church. They have a 19 year-old daughter who isn't baptized so we're trying to see what we can do to help. It's definitely a challenge, but the Lord can work miracles! Please pray for the "Landa family"
- Saturday and Sunday were a blur aside from the fact that we watched General Conference! This Conference was incredible. I feel like nearly all of the talks were what I needed to hear. I'm very excited to study the talks as they are published in this next week. From the piles of riches lie a few favorite gems:
 - Elder Vaiangina Sikahema
 - Bishop Sean Douglas
 - President Timothy L. Farnes
 - President Rosemary K. Chibota
 - President Dallin H. Oaks
 - Brother Gabriel W. Reid

Pensamento Espiritual:

As I studied and prepared myself for this week's General Conference, I found myself drawn to some talks by President Dallin H. Oaks. In his April 2013 address, "Followers of Christ", he starts like this,

One of our most beloved hymns, performed by the Tabernacle Choir this morning, begins with these words:

*"Come, follow me," the Savior said.
Then let us in his footsteps tread,
For thus alone can we be one
With God's own loved, begotten Son.*

*Those words, inspired by the Savior's earliest invitation to His disciples (see Matthew 4:19), were written by John Nicholson, a Scottish convert. Like many of our early leaders, he had little formal schooling but a profound love for our Savior and the plan of salvation.

I've decided to highlight this final part because it encapsulates the idea that the Gospel of Jesus Christ is for everyone. We may lack a few skills, we will lack many skills, but what matters most is how profound our love for the Savior is. With this love, and the coming confidence in Him, He can make up whatever we lack. He will fill the gaps. He will make us perfected as we come unto Him.

How deep is your love for Him? How have you let Him change and mold you? What can you do to love Him more? What practices can you alter to honor Him more?

I know He loves you, and that He wants to help you become perfected in Him.

Choose Christ.

Followers of Christ

<https://www.churchofjesuschrist.org/study/general-conference/2013/04/followers-of-christ?lang=eng>

I love you my dear friends, have a fantastic week, and please send me all the emails you want (I really hope you want to send me emails...). Take care, and know that God loves you.

—Elder John Randall Gee 🇧🇷